On April 13th, Captain Philip Hahn of the United States Air Force returned to his alma mater, Divine Redeemer School (Ford City Catholic), to present gifts to the students in appreciation for the cards they sent to him and his battalion during Catholic Schools Week in February.

Captain Philip Hahn told the students how much the cards meant to him, and his men and women. He wanted to stress how important it was to him to say thank you.

Hahn told them about attending Divine Redeemer from Kindergarten through 6th grade. Mrs. Kochman, the current 2nd grade teacher, was encouraged as Hahn told of how she had taught him when he was in Kindergarten.

He passed out flag patches to each student that had been flown aboard an F-22 Raptor while he was along as the Flight Test Engineer. In addition, he brought the school a frame with a picture of the F-22 Raptor and

(continued on page 9)