• Visitors to the Pennsylvania Farm Show are being advised to make the state Health Department's booth one of their stops. The PA Department of Health is offering free flu shots to Farm Show visitors. Acting Health Secretary Dr. Rachel Levine says no appointment is needed. To show how quick and easy it is, I decided to get a flu shot with the help of Hershey Medical Center Registered Nurse Pat Mylander. Last year over 1,300 Farm Show visitors also got vaccinated.

• Pennsylvania's Auditor General is seeking the power to audit municipal authorities. Auditor General Eugene DePasquale says he often hears from people that he should be able to audit municipal authorities. That he does not have that power, says DePasquale, is a great disservice to PA residents. DePasquale is urging lawmakers to give him that authority. Audits of the Philadelphia Parking Authority and the Pittsburgh Water and Sewer Authority his office was invited to conduct uncovered problems which led to reforms.

• A local Pennsylvania's Republican legislative leader is considering a run for Congress. House Majority Leader Dave Reed may be the next candidate to seek the GOP nomination to succeed longtime Congressman Bill Shuster. Shuster recently announced he will not seek reelection in the 9th District, which covers all or parts of 12 southwestern counties. It includes the cities of Altoona, Chambersburg and Uniontown, along with Indiana County, part of which Reed currently represents. Reed says nothing is set in stone as of yet. Reed first won election to the state House in 2003, and has served as Majority Leader the past three years. State Senator John Eichelberger of Blair County is one of three candidates who have announced they will go for the Republican nomination.

Ford City Borough Readies for Personnel Changes...

have one person who is doing payroll and you have no back-up. As a committee, we determined that we needed a person who could handle that as well as the water billing."

Fenyas said there will be an immediate need to transition Nortup into handling water invoicing and payments since current billing secretary Patty Hornyak is retiring February 25th.

"We need to get someone in who can work with her for awhile who we can get trained on the water billing system and hopefully get her somewhat comfortable as she can be with the new position."

Fenyas said Nortup will assume a lot of Hornyak's duties as well as additional responsibilities.

Hornyak said she intended to stay busy after retirement with spending time with her family and traveling. She said she was appreciative for the time that was spent in her position at the borough office and she felt she gained much knowledge during her tenure.

Another office worker, Carol French, is also leaving at the end of January. French has worked in several municipalities including Kittanning Borough. She has been at Ford City for over a year.

Borough Secretary Lisa Bittner will continue to serve as office manager to oversee the daily operations.

Patty Hornyak will end her tenure with Ford City Borough on February 25, 2018.
