My Opinion of Roethlisberger

First off, I've been trying to avoid talking about this subject until he is found innocent or guilty, but people have asked me for my take on it. I'll talk about what is being said about the case and then I will state my opinion on the matter.

For the second time in less than a year, Big Ben has been accused of sexual assault. Ben was out celebrating his 28th birthday at Capital City nightclub in Milledgeville, GA. The alleged victim is a 20 year old female who recently dropped out of college shortly after the alleged assault. The police have ask for a DNA test of Roethlisberger which Ben's attorney has not agreed to do.

Ben has admitted to having contact with the woman and said "it wasn't consummated" implying that they did not have sex. He went on to say the woman slipped, fell and injured her head. If Ben is found guilty he could be suspended for a year if not longer by the NFL, not to mention what a very displeased Rooney family could additionally add on.

Ben is the franchised quarterback of one of the most respected teams in the NFL. He is a leader of Steelers and needs to act like one at all times and not get into these situations. The Rooney family has never had to deal with this type of situation and never should have. He is no longer a college student and needs to stop acting like one, but he is a 28 year old single athlete millionaire. He has a right to go out and meet women, he has the right to live his life and shouldn't have to stay locked up in his house to celebrate his birthday. I'm a huge fan of Big Ben and would hate to see him go, but if this turns out to be true I will be very appalled.

If true, the Steelers could release Ben in an uncapped year and not have to worry about the salary cap hit. A rumor going around the NFL is that NFL Commissioner Rodger Goodell has no intention of meeting with Ben at the time, but could sometime in the future

RIZZO SPORTS WEEKDAYS

Big Weekend of College Basketball

This is an exciting weekend for College Basketball Fans. Robert Morris has already qualified, and Pitt will be in the NCAA Tournament. Don't forget IUP is hosting the first two rounds of the NCAA Division 2 Atlantic Regional this weekend. The IUP Men are now ranked #2 in the country. A National Title is not out of the question for Crimson Hawks. Fans will be being paying close attention to the Big East Tournament and Sunday Night's Selection Show. I know everyone can't wait to fill out their brackets, so I've created a Kittanning Paper Group on ESPN.com. If you sign up for the free ESPN Tournament Challenge, click on join a group, and search "Kittanning Paper" I hope to see your entry.
